The Guidelines for Submission of Manuscript

When preparing your manuscript, please follow these basic guidelines:

- The text must be in Microsoft Word. Do not submit PDFs of your text; send only word-processing files.
- Do not format your manuscript pages to look like book pages. Keep the formatting as simple as possible (A4 Size).
- Use Times New Roman, 12-point type, 1.5 line spacing, and 1-inch margins.
- The papers written in Hindi must be in Unicode software.
- Indent the first line of any paragraph after an extract, list, or other such element if you intend for it to be considered a new paragraph.
- Use block quotations for any quoted material exceeding 7 lines or any quotations containing multiple paragraphs. .

The composition of manuscripts should be the following: Title Page, Abstract, Keywords, Body of Paper, References, Figures, Tables and Declaration.

Title Page

This page should contain the full title of the paper and complete names, affiliations, addresses, phone and fax numbers, and electronic mail addresses of all authors. The contact author should be indicated.

Abstract

An abstract of not more than 200 words is required. It should contain not only a description of the subject and scope of coverage but also, in the case of research-oriented papers, discuss major results and conclusions.

Keywords

All papers must contain keywords or index terms. They should be provided in alphabetical order, and as a final paragraph of the abstract section.

Body of Paper

The original research articles should contain all elements necessary for interpretation and replication of the results. The research paper must be written by using appropriate methods. The paper should not exceed 3,500 words but may be longer if necessary. Use no more than three levels of subheadings. Do not place superscript note numbers in headings.

References

The IJRC strongly recommends that authors follow the Chicago Manual, it offers user-friendly comprehensive examples and includes a bibliography style, unlike many other style guides. Ensure that all citations in the reference list are complete and styled consistently. Check that all in-text citations have corresponding citations in the reference list. Submitting poorly prepared citations can significantly delay the publication of your work. References should be numbered in the order they are mentioned in the text, with numbers within square brackets. The reference section should be 1.5 spaced and in the style shown below; however, if there is any doubt about the correct abbreviation of publication names, these should be given in full. Note that titles of papers plus beginning and ending page numbers should be included.

Figures

If you are submitting figures:

- Place call-outs (such as “see figure 1.1”) within the paragraph to indicate the approximate location of figures.
- Include the figure number and figure caption at the end of the chapter.
- All figures should be submitted as separate, clearly named files, in the original source format; photos should be saved at a resolution of 300 dpi or higher.

- Figures and tables should be sent as separate electronic files and named numerically (e.g., fig1.eps, fig2.tif, table3.doc).

Tables

- Use Word's table feature, not text separated by tabs or graphic versions of tables.
- Table captions should remain with the tables; do not create a separate table caption list.
- Do not use nested tables; that is, a table cell may not contain another table.

Declaration (It must be attached at the end of research paper)

Submission of an article implies that the work described has not been published previously (except in the form of an abstract or as part of a published lecture, or academic thesis) that it is not under consideration of publication elsewhere, that its publication is approved by all authors and tacitly or explicitly by the responsible authorities where the work was carried out, and that if accepted, will not be published elsewhere in the same form, in English or any other language, without the written consent of the publisher. The Editors reserve the right to edit or otherwise alter all contributions, but authors will receive proofs for approval before publication. Copyrights for articles published in World Scholars Journals are retained by the authors, with first publication rights granted to the Journal. The journal/publisher is not responsible for subsequent uses of the work. It is the author's responsibility to bring an infringement action if so desired by the author.

Final Submission

Once your manuscript has been submitted, we consider it ready for editing. Do not send revised materials after this time, and do not continue revising your electronic files.

Publication Policies

Plagiarism

The IJRC takes issues of copyright infringement, plagiarism or other breaches of best practices in publication very seriously. We seek to protect the rights of our authors and we always investigate claims of plagiarism or misuse of published articles. Equally, we seek to protect the reputation of the journal against malpractices. Submitted articles may be checked with duplication-checking software. Where an article, for example, is found to have plagiarized other work or included third-party copyright material without permission or with insufficient acknowledgment, or where the authorship of the article is contested, we reserve the right to take action including, but not limited to: publishing an erratum or corrigendum (correction); retracting the article; taking up the matter with the head of department or dean of the author's institution and/or relevant academic bodies or societies; or taking appropriate legal action.

Previous Distribution and/or Publication

The author should disclose any prior distribution and/or publication of any portion of the material to the Editor for the Editor's consideration and ensure that appropriate attribution to the prior distribution and/or publication of the material is included.

Permissions

Authors are responsible for obtaining permission from copyright holders for reproducing any illustrations, tables, figures or lengthy quotations previously published elsewhere.
