

Commemorating the Writer Series : Mulk Raj Anand

on 17th December, 2021

“Man is both the subject and object of his culture, he is both the builder as well as the building, his name is synonymous with culture.” - Mulk Raj Anand

The English department at Central University Jammu held a Commemorating the Writer series on December 17, 2021, the day Mulk Raj Anand, a well-known Indian author, was born. The acclaimed English novelist, short story writer, and essayist was honoured.

His writings and contributions to Indian novels in English were the main topics of the seminar. At 1:30 PM, the programme began. There were luminaries including (HOD) Dr. Vandana Sharma and Dr. Neena Gupta Vij, Raj Thakur, Parveen Kumari, and Mirza Ahmad Afzal Farooq.

Shivam Verma, research scholar, gave the program's opening remarks and introduction. Dr. Raj Gaurav Verma, an assistant professor from University of Lucknow, delivered keynote speech.

